THE POLITICIANS AND THE COMPULSION BILL

A MOVEMENT TO BRING IRELAND IN.

Pro-Ally Feeling Growing in Greece.

THE LANDING AT CORFU: THE ALLIES EXPLAIN.

[Reuter's Service to The "Telegraph"]

THE ITALIAN FRONT.

GREAT AERIAL ACTIVITY.

January 13, 3.40 a.m.
A Rome communique states that the artillery duel has continued from Val Canonica to the sea.
There has been great aerial activity on both sides. Italian aviators bombed Gandola, north of Trent, and also the stations at Trent and Rovereto and the barracks at Volano.

GREECE AND THE ALLIES.

A CLOSER ENTENTE DESIRED.

January 13, 1.45 p.m.
Telegrams from Athens, sent via Messina to avoid the censorship, indicate that opinion is turbulent and is daily tending towards M. Venizelos and the Allies.
Disorders are reported from Volo, where stores were looted by hungry crowds, who complained that the whole of Greece lacks coal and flour, while the lights on the tram service in Athens are greatly reduced. The populace regard these and other hardships as proofs of the necessity of a more complete Entente with the Allies.

THE ALLIES EXPLAIN.

January 13, 2.00 p.m.
According to Reuter's correspondent at Athens, the Allied Ministers have presented a Note stating that the Allies have considered it their duty, strictly in the interests of humanity, to transport at the earliest moment the Serbian Army from Albania in order to save them from famine and destruction. Corfu alone presented the necessary facilities for the transport and re-arranging. The Entente thought that the Greeks would not oppose the transfer of its Serbian Allies, who will only make a brief stay. There is no question of occupation, and the guarantees given to that effect will be applied to Corfu equally with other portions of Greece that are being temporarily used by the Allies.

THE ALLIES IN THE WEST.

GERMAN ATTACK FAILS.

January 13, 1.30 a.m.
A Paris communique says:—
The Germans attempted an attack with poison gas between Argonne and the Meuse, but the French curtains of fire prevented them from emerging from their trenches.
Artillery fire played havoc with the German positions on the heights of the Meuse and in the Vosges.

MILE END BYE-ELECTOIN.

THE CANDIDATES.

January 13, 12.35 p.m.
The candidates for the Mile End constituency are:—
Unionist, Mr. Warwick Brooke.
Independent, Mr. F. Billing, formerly of the Naval Air Service.
Mr. F. N. Charrington, mentioned in a telegram on the 10th inst. as a Patriotic Independent candidate in favour of the Compulsion Bill, has withdrawn.

THE BALKANS.

STRENGTH OF FRANCO-BRITISH FORCE.

January 13, 1.45 p.m.
The correspondent of the Berliner Tageblatt at Sofia says the Franco-British forces in the Balkans number a quarter of a million.

THE COMPULSION BILL.

MINERS' FEDERATION MEETS.

January 13, 1.00 p.m.
The Miners' Federation has met in London to consider its attitude towards the Compulsion Bill. The proceedings were private.

THE OBJECTORS.

January 13, 12.35 p.m.
The minority voting on the Compulsion Bill consisted of:—
Radicals - 27
Labourites - 10
The Independent, Nationalist and Irish Unionist members of the House of Commons have decided to move an amendment in the Committee Stage making the Bill apply to Ireland.
A plebiscite taken by the Nottinghamshire Miners' Association shows a large majority in favour of the Bill.

A NEW ORGANISATION.

January 13, 12.35 p.m.
Prominent Liberal members of the House of Commons have formed an organisation whose object will be the prosecution of the war by the most vigorous means.

EARL KITCHENER.

AN AUDIENCE WITH THE KING.

January 13, 12.35 p.m.
Earl Kitchener last night had an hour's audience with His Majesty the King.

THE RUSSIANS.

(Havas Telegram.)

January 12.
A Petrograd message says:—The Germans have begun to evacuate Pomeranie. The Russian squadron in the Black Sea bombarded Varna.

THE ALLIES IN THE WEST.

GERMAN WORKING PARTIES DISPERSED.

January 12, 4.45 p.m.
A Paris communique says that French batteries have dispersed German working parties in Argonne.

EXPLOSION OF GERMAN AMMUNITION STORES.

January 12, 6.20 p.m.
According to Reuter's correspondent at Amsterdam, a Berlin communique reports that yesterday an ammunition storehouse at Willemin, in the southern section of Lille, exploded, wrecking adjacent streets. Up to the present seventy dead and forty seriously wounded have been found among the debris. The communique attributes the explosion to a British attack, though it is not explained how it was delivered.

LILLE EXPLOSION DUE TO AIR RAID.

January 12, 10.00 p.m.
An Amsterdam telegram attributes the Lille explosion to a British air raid.

GENERAL HAIG'S REPORT.

January 13, 12.30 a.m.
General Haig reports:—Last night we raided hostile trenches east of Armentieres. A score of the enemy were disposed of and a machine gun emplacement was blown up. The party then returned, bringing in two prisoners. The artillery on both sides are active about Vermelles, Wiclije and Pilken.

ACTIVITY ON BOTH SIDES.

January 13, 1.20 a.m.
A Paris communique states that two aeroplanes dropped eight bombs on Dunkirk, inflicting insignificant damage. The artillery wrecked German trenches and works north of the Aisne and in Champagne. Germans blew up a mine on Hill 285 in Argonne, producing a vast crater, where fighting proceeded all day. The French strongly occupied the southern edge.

WAR TELEGRAMS

PERSIAN AFFAIRS.

WHERE ARE THE BAGDAD BRITISHERS?

January 12, 4.25 p.m.
Reuter learns that the British colony at Bagdad was deported from the city in the direction of Mosul at the end of November by the Turkish authorities. The American Ambassador at Constantinople has been asked to obtain some information about the party, consisting of nine ladies and children and two men.

THE COMPULSION BILL.

MINERS' OPPOSITION.

January 12, 4.50 p.m.
The South Wales miners, by 211 to 35, have voted against the Compulsion Bill.

IN THE HOUSE.

January 12, 7.40 p.m.
In the House of Commons, on the second reading of the Compulsion Bill, Mr. Asquith affirmed that the necessity of giving his pledge simply proved that the Bill would give the men who were urgently and indispensably required, and without whom Great Britain could not do her part in the war. It was not intended that membership of anti-conscription and kindred fellowships should constitute a claim for exemption from military service.

Mr. R. L. Outhwaite (L., Hasley) asked in the event of compulsion would a moratorium be introduced for conscripts' rent and other debts.

Mr. Tennant did not think a moratorium could be limited to such cases.
Mr. Ellis Griffith, Liberal member for Anglessey, attacked the opponents of the Compulsion Bill and said he had been told that he was acting against the traditions of his party. He cared nothing for the traditions of his party, but he cared for the interests of his country (loud cheers). Lord Kitchener had said that men were necessary to victory. Did his opponents not want victory? (cheers). Mr. Ellis Griffith emphasised that he could not understand the attitude of the Irish and Labour parties. They themselves both used measures of compulsion, namely, boycott and strikes, compelling men to join the unions, but when men were compelled to join the army it was treason (loud cheers).

Mr. John Dillon declared that Ireland desired to maintain adequate numbers for the army and was convinced that Ireland would have no cause to be ashamed of the part she had played in the war.
Sir J. Simon emphasised that the desire of the opponents of the Bill was to see the nation at its strongest and most united. They opposed the Bill because they did not believe that it conduced to this, but if it passed, he hoped that the opponents of the Bill would unite in seeing that it was effective.

Mr. Asquith fully agreed with Sir J. Simon's academic arguments on the evils of compulsion and the superiority of voluntarism, but Sir J. Simon lost sight of the actualities that we are at war, in which not only our existence but all of Sir J. Simon's ideals are at stake.

Mr. Asquith appealed to the House even now to pass the Bill without dissent, which was the most effective blow at this moment for the victory of our cause (loud cheers).

LABOURITE'S APPEAL.

Mr. A. Henderson, continuing, said that the Bill would encourage the Allies, as showing them that we were willing to break our great traditions and throw everything into the scale in order to secure victory. He repudiated the story of a conscriptionist plot in the Cabinet, and mentioned that it was he who had suggested the re-opening of the Derby groups. The conscriptionist Cabinet Ministers, readily assenting, saw in the Bill none of the insidious menace to industrial freedom of which so much had been heard. Labourites never hesitated to apply compulsion wherever the welfare of the state of a particular class of trade required it. Then why object to compulsion to save the nation? (cheers). He concluded by saying, "We must have men, and have them now, so as to be ready for the field in 1916."

Mr. W. M. R. Fringle (L., North-west Lancashire) announced that in view of Mr. Asquith's grave appeal he and his friends withdrew their opposition at this stage. Mr. P. Snowden (Con., Blackburn), insisted on a division. The division was marked by scenes of opressive enthusiasm.

Winding up the debate, Mr. Asquith said that he had given assurances in the name of the entire Cabinet, making it possible for him to remain in the Government, which was regarded at home and abroad as the symbol of the nation's unity. He had the authority of Lord Kitchener for stating that we required men immediately, not only untrained and unwarmed and married men, but the whole available fraction, whether large or small, of the 651,000 with which the Bill dealt.

The Bill passed its second reading by 431 votes to 89.
The result of the division was greeted with uproarious enthusiasm and wild cheering. The minority included Messrs. Burns and J. M. D. Henderson.

Canada and the Orient.

Synchronising with the effort made over for the capture of German trade while the blockade of the enemy is being pursued, it is gratifying to find the leading representatives of trade in British Columbia meeting to discuss the possibilities that are now open for the increase of the steady stream of commerce between Canada and the Orient. The Council of the Board of the Trade in Victoria, B.C., met last month to review the situation and exchange ideas as to the possibilities of the future, and naturally a great deal of emphasis was laid on the question of the steamers available for the conveyance of the various classes of goods which find a ready market on this side of the Pacific.

Daily Press.

Trade After The War.

One of the lessons which the British people are learning from the war is the danger of unpreparedness, and, consequently, they are already considering means for conducting vigorously the commercial struggle that will follow when the sword shall have been sheathed. It is realised that the financial burdens which are now being piled up by the combatants will be a heavy incubus for many years to come, and that the only hope of easing those burdens will lie in keeping the mill-wheels of industry revolving as fast as possible. From Austria and Germany come reports that manufacturers and merchants are laying their plans for recapturing foreign markets as soon as hostilities are at an end, and we may rest assured that they will be able, even more than in the past, to count upon the systematic support of their Governments. A joint conference of the Central Union of German Manufacturers, who combined to form a War Committee of German Industry some time ago, has passed a resolution expressing the opinion that the numerous measures introduced by hostile countries for the systematic suppression and restriction of German competition after the war require systematically organised advancement of German exports as well as of German commercial interests throughout the world, in order to avert damage threatened by the war.

China Mail.

Trade Development.

The President of the Board of Trade is reported in a telegram we publish to-day to have informed the House of Commons that a good deal has been done in developing trade in which Germany formerly had a monopoly, in so far as this is true it is satisfactory, of course, but judging from the complaints one still hears from time to time, much more might be done than is done in neutral countries by the Legation and Consular Staffs to assist the British merchant and manufacturer; this is done at the present time. Undoubtedly British trade in China has suffered, and suffers still, from the lack of that assistance. How greatly German trade is helped in China by the Legation and Consular officials is well known, and German trade is not the only trade assisted in this way. Recently a representative of an important foreign combine intent on business development in China, arrived in the Capital with a small staff of experts.

The French War Loan.
The Asahi reports that the subscriptions made in Japan to the new French Five per cent. War Loan, the lists for which closed on the 15th inst., amounted to about 2,280,000 francs, including the following:—Tokyo 1,018,000; Yokohama 835,000; Kobe 243,000; Seoul 115,000; Nagasaki 35,000; Osaka 33,000; Kyoto 6,000. Most of the subscribers were foreign residents and the highest individual subscriptions ranged between 200,000 and 400,000 francs.

An Insane Practice.
Says the Singapore Free Press of January 1.—That throwing the still burning ends of cigars or cigarettes out of windows without looking where they may fall is a dangerous practice, was evidenced yesterday afternoon on Collyer Quay. Two Europeans noticed smoke issuing from under the storm cover of a motor car belonging to a member of the Peninsular and Oriental S.N. Co.'s staff. The car hood, as also the storm cover, was found to be burning, and had not one of the passengers jumped on to the car and extinguished the flame with his hands, (covered with a handkerchief), the whole cover, if not the car itself, would have quickly been alight.

A Chinese Mission to Japan.
Peking, 4th January.—Chow Tze-chi, Minister of Agriculture and Commerce, leaves shortly for Japan to congratulate the Mikado on his coronation on behalf of H.E. Yuan Shih-kai. Many rumours are circulating as regards Chow Tze-chi's mission to Japan to convey a decoration to the Emperor of Japan and to congratulate him on his coronation. It is officially stated, however, that the mission was originated three months ago. The rumours are probably due to the coincidence of the mission with the change in the form of government. The Chinese Government decided to wait till the conclusion of the Coronation ceremonies in Japan before sending a special envoy, owing to the lack of accommodation at Kyoto.

Cholera in the Philippines.

In the city of Manila there was one death from cholera on January 1, a Japanese named Sira Cawa, who resided at 557 Calle Madrid, and on January 4, Amparo Paredes, residing at 1234 Callejon M. Natividad, Santa Cruz, died of the same disease. A telegram received later at the Bureau of Health from Dr. Jacobe Fajardo, chief health officer for the Department of Mindanao and Sulu, reports that there were 14 cases of cholera and 14 deaths in the Taraca valley, Lanao, during the preceding 24 hours.

The U.S. Presidential Campaign.

New York, December 14.—The Republicans will open their Convention on June 1th, 1916, and the Democratic Convention will probably be held a week later. The Hon. Charles E. Hughes, Associate Judge of the Supreme Court, is the most popular Republican candidate to date, but it is doubtful if he will allow his name to go forward. Mr. Roosevelt is regaining ground and if Judge Hughes declines the nomination he may be a candidate. The Committee of the Republican Party is already busily occupied with the choice of candidates.

On Soap.

Soap appears to have been discovered by the Celts, for the name is derived from the Celtic word "sebon." It seems strange that such early wanderers should have been familiar with soap, but if they had the name they must certainly have had the article it stood for. Moreover, it is quite conceivable that nomads using wood fires could accidentally discover soap. All woods have a certain amount of mineral salts, chiefly those of potash, in their fibres. After burning, these are left in the form of carbonate, which a heavy shower of rain would dissolve into a liquid lye, washing only the grease from an overturned cauldron of broth to form soap. A dash of natural curiosity on the part of the woman who cleared up the mess would reveal the cleansing properties of the new substance.

German Prisoners in China who have Escaped.

So far there are thirty-one German and Austrian prisoners of war who have escaped from Russian custody into the Chinese territory on the Siberian frontier. They have been kept under detention in six different prefectures, says a recent issue of the Manchuria Daily News. M. Krupensky (Russian Minister to Peking) stated that the presence of these war prisoners on the Siberian frontier formed a menace to Russian welfare and further suggested that China would be put in an awkward position if any of the prisoners should break away from China's custody. The Russian Minister pressed for their removal elsewhere. Accordingly, telegraphic instructions were sent to the Kiro Government, a few days ago, telling it to quarter them all in the city of Kiro.

Kinta Gang Robbers.

Ipo, January 3.—On New Year's Eve, two watchmen of a mine near Menglam came across four Chinese, one of whom was carrying a rice bag. The Chinese were stopped and on the bag being placed on the ground, one had his suspicions aroused. The Chinese were attacked and bolted, leaving the bag which contained a number of arms and ammunition. The police were informed. No trace of the Chinese can be found but undoubtedly they are part of the gang operating in Kinta.—Singapore Free Press.

HONGKONG, FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, 1916.

THE ARMCHAIR CRITICS.

Every war produces a numberless army of amateur strategists and arm chair critics, who know far better than the most competent and experienced soldier how a given enterprise should be handled. In this respect the present struggle is no exception to the rule; in point of fact, it rather emphasises the truth of the generalisation. From the days of the Antwerp expedition, at the very beginning of the war, right down to the launching of the Dardanelles venture and on to the intervention in the Balkans, there have been wiseacres who have thoroughly persuaded themselves at least that, had they been given the direction of affairs, the war would have ended long since. And no doubt these know-alls have already published it abroad that the withdrawal from the Gallipoli Peninsula and the present suspension of activities in the Balkans precisely fulfil their expectations. Apart from their total ignorance concerning the questions upon which cranks of this type dilate so glibly, the most obvious fact which their vapourings reveal, is that they are utterly unable to take long views of a situation. They view each theatre of a separate campaign, forgetting that bigger minds than their own are at work on broad and comprehensive lines, taking count of all the circumstances and everywhere working for co-ordination of energy and action.

There are those who hold that we should never have ventured further afield than the Western front, and now that the Dardanelles enterprise has been given up, we may expect to hear these critics advocating withdrawal from the Balkans also. The theory of what may be termed the Western School, which, by the way includes Sir Edward Carson in its ranks, is that we should concentrate every man and all our strength and skill on pushing back the enemy in France and in Flanders, on the grounds that it is a fatal policy to dissipate our strength, that it is impossible to save Serbia except by beating Germany first and righting that gallant little Kingdom afterwards, and that the decisive scene of the war is, and must continue to be, the West. There is however, another side to the picture, and it is worth while taking a glance at it. First and foremost, it would surely be the veriest of follies to permit the Germans to have a walk-over in any theatre of war. Then, too, on the question of dissipation of strength, the fact must not be lost sight of that numbers and resources are on the side of the Allies, and obviously, therefore, it is the enemy who is most likely to suffer from the keeping open of as many theatres of war as possible. There is the further factor to be borne in mind that, by persevering in the Balkans, the Allies hope to render the utmost assistance to the Russians in their great offensive in the Spring—an offensive which they are even now beginning to develop.

But above and beyond the military and political arguments which can be adduced on one side or the other, is the supreme fact that no step is taken by any of the Allied nations without the joint approval after due consideration of all the factors, of the others. That point was made clear by Mr. Asquith a few days since. We have no need to bother about the wisdom or the unwisdom of this policy or of that. The war is in capable hands. Our best service just now is to preserve our confidence and to trust in those who have the guns in hand.

The War Funds.

We remarked in this column a day or two ago on the fact that the number of War Funds in Hongkong tends to increase rather than to diminish—a most gratifying sign, surely, and one which shows that the Colony is still anxious to render financial aid to the many movements which have sprung up in the interests of our fighting men and of those who are dependents of our soldiers and sailors. Under present circumstances, however, there is a good deal of overlapping in organisation and energy, and for that reason the formation of a general War Charities Committee must be regarded as a step in the right direction. This Committee held its inaugural meeting yesterday, and as a result of its preliminary deliberations there is every promise of a well-considered scheme being drawn up for the centralised management and control of all the War Funds to which the people of the Colony are subscribing. The idea underlying the creation of the body is not that the existing Funds should be closed down: it is merely to bring the management of those Funds under one head and, incidentally, to lay before the public the claims of any particular Fund which merits special support.

A Chance for All.

There can be no doubt that already Hongkong has done magnificently in assisting various war charities, and here a special word of appreciation is due to those who have voluntarily taken upon themselves the management of the several Funds opened in the Colony. These ladies and gentlemen have given a very great deal of time and energy to their self-imposed tasks, and while we are sure they will be quite willing to continue the good work, we are equally certain that they will see the advantages which will accrue from the operations of a central body whose special care it will be to receive all contributions for war purposes and to forward them to the proper quarters. As was pointed out at yesterday's meeting, there will be many residents who will still desire to support the particular Fund to which they have been contributing, and this they will quite well be able to do by earmarking their subscriptions when sending them in. On the other hand, there will be others who have no predilections for any particular movement but who are none the less anxious to do their "bit." These may send in their contributions to the Committee, which will allocate the sums so received to a cause which the members know to be serving a really useful purpose. Later on, another National Loan will no doubt be floated, and, as His Excellency was at pains to point out, this Loan will deserve special support from those who have money which they can spare. For we are told that it is the "silver bullets" that will win the war. And we are sure that Hongkong would like to feel that, though so far away from the Motherland, it is doing something tangible to bring nearer the day of final and complete triumph.

Fires and their Causes.

At this time of the year outbreaks of fire are fairly common, but they are not all attributable to the fact that Chinese New Year is not far distant. Carelessness is probably a more frequent cause of fire than any other. That at any rate is the lesson which one gathers from a study of the Shanghai Fire Brigade report for November, and we imagine that what applies to Shanghai applies also to Hongkong in this respect. Out of ten outbreaks, the causes of which are given, three were due to sparks from stoves and one each to a kerosene pressure lamp setting fire to decorations, to children playing with matches, and to a cigarette end being dropped on bedding. The causes of two were unknown, one was attributed to spontaneous combustion and another to incendiarism. These are illuminating facts, and they serve to show that with the exercise of a little reasonable care many an outbreak of fire could be prevented.

Pocket Cup Open.
An accountant living at 7, Temple Street, Yau-mai, was boarding the Yau-mai Ferry at Hongkong last evening when some person cut open his jacket pocket and stole a purse, valued $10, which contained $257 in money. A cheque-book and some papers were also stolen. The matter has been reported to the police.

Stamp Ordinance Transgressed.
An offence against the Stamp Ordinance was committed on behalf of nine folk by Mr. J. H. Gardiner in Mr. Wood's court this morning. Mr. Gardiner stated that all the men were employed by Mr. Lee Kee, of 21, Wellington Street, their wages averaging about $5 or $6 a month. In the present case they received wages for two or three months, thus receiving more than the $10 which made them liable to affix a stamp when giving a receipt. When paying wages no receipt was asked for by most employers, but, for some reason or other, their employer required a receipt. As the folk were all poor, he asked for a blank view to be taken. A fine of $2 was imposed in each case.

NOTES ON THE CRISIS.

STILL THE BILL.

East and West.

Reports from the Eastern front, if not of a wildly exciting nature, may at least be taken as indications that the enemy is finding his troubles increasing. That wonderful line which the Germans fortified along the Eastern front, a week or so ago, seems to be as much a bluff as most of their other performances, and has certainly not prevented the Russians from causing them a lot of further inconvenience. Similarly, in the West, despite the magnificent offensive that our friend the enemy was to make there, the British and French have discovered a variety of ways to prevent it from developing beyond the talk stage. Among other useful little scores in the British aeroplane attack near Lille, which resulted in the blowing up of an ammunition depot, with appreciable loss of German life. Why, one would fain ask, are there not more of these raids? There was a very sensible agitation at Home some few months ago in favour of a definite system of air reprisals for the raids committed in England. As usual, there were plenty of fools ready to oppose anything so sane; but we are still hoping that the Allied army chiefs will see their way to arranging for something of the sort; not of course merely on French and Belgian territory that is temporarily under enemy control, but on every available bit of Germany as well.

As Reuter anticipates, there will probably be more protests from the Greek Government now that the French have taken up an uncompromising attitude in the Archipelago. Greece has only herself to thank for any inconvenience to which she may be put. As not uncommonly happens, it is her own King Constantine infinitely more, in pains, anxiety and "face," to play a shady game than it would have cost him to run straight. In fact he puts us very much in mind of the man who will use up a hundred times more energy and brain power, and put himself to a hundred times more inconvenience, to borrow money and to avoid paying his debts than would have been necessary to gain a comfortable independence by honest work. And since the French have shown a reasonable disposition not to allow sentiment to encroach on business, why cannot the British do the same as regards the aliens at Home now? By Mr. Herbert Samuel's own admission, there are still well over five thousand German males at large in Great Britain. And, almost simultaneously, Mr. Macnamara announces that a court martial, "will shortly be held" in connection with the blowing up, while in port, of the cruiser Natal. Courts martial will not bring the Natal back again, but an Ordinance for locking up those 5,554 loose Germans would probably go a long way towards preventing a recurrence of the Balwark, Princess Irene and Natal episodes. At least there's no harm in trying the experiment.

The much discussed Bill in favour of compulsion has passed its second reading, after an abundance of talk. Thus much good has come out of the discussion: it has prompted some of the Radical and Labour Members to set their houses in order, to face unpleasant truths and to speak out like men in defence of trade union would-be intimidation. Mr. Henderson and Mr. Ellis Griffiths—two essentially representative men—have made the most praiseworthy efforts to hammer sense into the union people (and the Irish, for that matter) on the subject of compulsion. If boycotts and strikes are not an interference with the liberty of the subject in Heaven's name what are they? We think it highly probable that this elementary lesson in practical logic will have its good effect on a perceptible number of the dissentients whose sense of British fair play should tell them that they cannot corner quite all the compulsion.

A YEAR AGO TO-DAY.

LEADING EVENTS IN THE GREAT WAR.

(Extracts from the war news contained in the "Hongkong Telegraph" of January 14, 1915.)

Turks Occupy Ancient Persian City.

Reuter's correspondent at Petrograd reports that the Turks have occupied Tabriz.

Austrians' Lamentable Position.

Reuter's correspondent at Vienna states that conditions in Vienna have become intolerable. Small-pox, cholera and typhoid are raging, and numerous cases are reported from all points of Austria. The price of flour has become tripled, and that of butter doubled, while deficiencies are unobtainable. Crowds of refugees are arriving at Vienna from Bukovina, while hundreds of destitute people, mostly Jews, are stranded on the Roumanian frontier and are on the verge of starvation. The refugees are estimated at half a million.

Roumanians' Decision.

The Times correspondent in Sofia reports that, even should Italy remain neutral, Roumania has decided to enter the concert of the Entente Powers about the middle of February.

Turkey's Troubles Increasing.

A Petrograd official communiqué received from the army in the Caucasus reports that stubborn fighting continues with the Turkish rearguards at Olti. A fierce struggle at Kasurgan is turning to our advantage. The Russians have captured one Turkish battalion and have practically annihilated another. They have also seized a Turkish camp with an artillery depot.

German Trick Circumvented.

A Petrograd official communiqué states that the Germans have been continuing their now customary tactics of attacks upon small detachments in isolated districts, all of which have been easily repulsed.

F.M.S. Sultan's Loyalty.

The Sultan of Selangor has addressed a letter to the High Commissioner of the Straits Settlements, as follows:—"Although the Sultan of Turkey is of the same religion as myself, my Government has absolutely no concern with the Turkish Government, and my Chiefs and people are all loyal to the British Government. I pray that the British may be victorious in the present war."

THE YARN MARKET.

Effect of the Unrest in Kwangtung.

Messrs. Pollahwalla and Kotwall, in their yarn market report dated January 13, state:—

Our last circular is dated the 30th ult. per a.s. Nankin. We regret having to chronicle another fortnight of absolute stagnation, there being hardly any movement to report. The political rising in Yunnan has killed all chances of business with that province, and in view of the rumours pointing to the existence of unrest in Canton and other prominent countries, it would be vain to hope for any improvement in the present position.

The total of sales during the fortnight amounts hardly to 150 bales. Such an unsatisfactory state of affairs has not been witnessed for a considerable time.

In strange contrast to the gloomy position in China, Bombay spinners are firmer than ever under the compulsion of stiff cotton.

Total sales, 150 bales.

Stocks.—Unsold and undelivered in the godowns, 86,600 bales.

Arrivals.—Thermal at Nellore and extra str. Kamakura Maru from Bombay, have brought in 6,300 bales for Hongkong, and 5,700 bales for Shanghai. Shipments from Hongkong to Shanghai, coast ports &c. nil.

Shanghai.—Reports a dull and nervous market, with little of interest passing.

Japanese Yarn.—A few transactions are recorded and about 100 bales Yellow-Joss 20s. have changed hands at $122.75 bales. Best No. 20s at $132.

Raw Cotton.—Bengal no stock. 185 bales Chinese have been sold at $34 per picul. Quotations: Bengal at $20 to $22, Chinese at $22 to $24.

THE TRIALS.

A Morning at the Racecourse.

Keen, raw, cold, an early morning ride in a creeping mizzle through the dark streets where figures sit silently by, a rush down the incline, and a halt at Happy Valley heeding snugly amidst the hills, where, out of the darkness, a dull third, rapidly drawing nearer, and the raucous cries of the Chinese jockeys strike the ears of the new arrival. A moment later living forms detach themselves from the gloom. There is just time to catch a glimpse of the ponies, heads up, a cloud of vapour being emitted from their distended nostrils, before they have gone thundering past, and one senses, by the uneven heat of boots a little further on, that they are turning the corner. The pony trials are in progress, to racing enthusiasts an event of almost more importance than the actual Race itself, albeit that is the culmination of many weeks' hard work.

Despite the cold and early hour, warm beds have been ungrudgingly vacated, and already a fair crowd has clustered round the railings straining eyes in a vain endeavour to discern and identify the ponies. Occasionally an on-looker succeeds in penetrating the blackness, and after gazing intensely while the galloping griffin is within range of vision, he, or she for that matter, (for there are ladies here, too) turns to a companion or companions to make some remark. "That white one keeps well down, an easy trotter." "Let her head go man." (this to the rider), and so on. The keenest interest is displayed by all with the exception of a lady who will persist in viewing this exciting moment with a detached air. She shatters the preoccupation of the onlookers with common every-day observations which are quite readable. "I was looking at China Coast this morning and he looked fine," she says. All right so far; she is willing to listen. But she spoils herself by rambling off at a tangent about the price of ginger cake and the cap of chocolate she had partaken of at breakfast, and then, to crown all, she tries to scratch up an argument on golf. Although her companions are far more anxious to view the trials, she insists on thrusting upon them a dissertation indicating in which direction her ambitions lie. Her loftiest ideal apparently is to go round the course at Deepwater Bay in 47. It is sheer sacrilege to yarn of golf at this time, and soon she recognises it too, for she is next heard besting her male friend $5 that Chopsticks and Rice is a superior pony to Rice and Curry. The bet is accepted, and she reminds him so many times of it that, in exasperation, he exclaims, "I've got you, or is this another one?"

Now the dawn breaks—trees, houses, and other objects take definite shape, and with a last sigh, the wind sweeps the sole remaining morsel of darkness away. The ponies, the centre of attraction, gallop into full view. On they go, ears well up, every muscle tense. Now, the crowd can see round the whole course. Stop watches are out. "Times" are being recorded. These early morning trials are a grand sight. They possess a charm all their own. One cannot wonder that so many follow the sport. To remain apathetic in this atmosphere is impossible. And so new converts are made, not from any sordid motive as regards money, but for the pure love of the cleanliness of it all.

An Explanation Needed.

Two Chinese coming off the Canton boat, Tai Lee, this morning, were searched by a Chinese watchman on the wharf, and were found to have in their possession a large lump of silver, weighing 12½ lbs., value about $200, and a small quantity of gold. Railing against a satisfactory explanation of their possession of this metal, the men were charged before Mr. Wood this morning, when they stated that they had melted down several silver articles, and extracted the gold in the process. The first defendant was discharged, the other man being remanded for enquiry as to the source of the silver.

THE SITUATION IN CHINA.

The Canton Bomb Incident.

With further reference to the bomb-throwing incident at Canton, reported in our issue of last night, we learn that at 10.30 p.m. on Wednesday, a bomb was thrown at the Kwangtung Electric Supply Co.'s power house, but not much damage was done. All the windows in the building were smashed, a few bricks displaced and two or three coolies killed. The bomb or was thrown by a man who was passing the building in a ricksha. Mr. Garrard, the Chief Engineer, was entertaining a few friends at a bridge party at the time, amongst them being the British Consul General, Mr. E. C. Wilton, C.M.G.

Later information is to the effect that one person—a ricksha coolie—was killed, and two Chinese pedestrians were injured. No arrests appear to have been made at the time. The explosion was very distinctly heard round about Shamen and along the native Dand. Indeed there was something like a panic among many of the Chinese in the immediate neighbourhood of the electric light works. Many of them hastily collected as much of their portable property as possible and ran about aimlessly looking for safety.

A Chinese report to the effect that a district commander was killed is untrue.

The impression among the Shamen people and also among the more reliable of the Chinese is that the Canton authorities are well able to keep down the riotous elements, and that anything like organised violence is out of the question. No further news as to skirmishes in the outlying districts is to hand. It is perhaps a significant fact that merchants in and out of Canton hesitate to enter into the "complimentary contracts" that are commonly observed just before Chinese New Year.

It is understood that no soldiers have yet been sent down to Yunnan Province, though the popular belief in Canton is that General Lung Kam-kwong, the Governor General's brother, will shortly be setting out in the direction with troops.

Views of Hankow Yunnanese.
The following telegram has been sent to the N. C. Daily News from Yunnanese in Hankow:—
Tsai Ao, Jen Ko-cheng and Tai Kan are not natives of Yunnan. They seized Yunnan and started the rebellion with the object of attaining their selfish desire for power and privileges. The Yunnanese resident in Hankow have become very angry. They have met, discussed, and sent telegrams requesting that the rebels be punished. They also propose to request, by telegraph, the Emperor to send punitive expeditions against them so as to rescue the people from fire and water.

General Tuan.
Peking, Jan. 8.—General Tuan Chi-jui, who has been reported to be in Shanghai, is in Peking. When seen by a correspondent he stated that his physician advised rest but he was not going to Shanghai for a cure.

Daily telegrams are being received from Szechuan which, so far, is quiet. The Legations continue to receive reassuring reports from various provinces. They Yunnan residents in Peking have telegraphed to the acting Military and Civil Governors of Yunnan urging a suspension of rebel activities.

Peking, Dec. 8.
The suggestion of General Lin Hsien-tze, the Defence Commissioner, and Liang Chien-chang, Governor of Kueichow, urging a special citizens' conference to reconsider the monarchical question which has been rejected by the Government, who have decided on suppressing Yunnan by force. Both General Lung Chai-kwong and Governor Chang Min-chi have strongly denounced Kueichow's suggestion. So far Kueichow remains loyal to Peking.
Haiphong, Jan. 7.—General Ho, who was Taotai at Mengtze under the old Empire and who is a fervent royalist, is again Taotai at Mengtze, and many people are accepting him as ruler.

Anxiety in Kueichow.
Kueichow, Jan. 7.—A meeting of the gentry and others has appointed three of the gentry to go to Yunnan to dissuade the rebels sending troops into Kueichow. The delegates leave to-morrow. A local newspaper states that the Central Government has agreed to the request made by Kueichow not to send troops into the province.

Message from Loyal Officials in Yunnan.
Peking, January 9.—A Mandate appoints General Wang Tsang-yuan Chiangchun of Hupeh in succession to Chang Hsiulan. General Wang Tsang-yuan is an old follower of Yuan Shih-kai. Chinese reports state that General Tsu-tseng and General Liu Chuan, who were recently appointed acting Chiangchun and Civil Governor of Yunnan, have secretly wired to the Government accepting the appointments, and saying that they would do their utmost to effect a peaceful solution of the present trouble. They requested the Central Government meanwhile to station troops on the Szechuan-Yunnan border, but not to permit any to enter Yunnan.

Government's Military Measures.
According to the Chinese Press—and there is for the moment practically no other information available—the Government has decided to dispatch three expeditions against Yunnan.

The first expedition will be commanded by General Tsoo Kan, who will lead the whole 3rd Division into Yunnan. This expedition has started on its way already. The second force will be composed of drafts from troops in Hunan and Kiangsi. The third will be formed of Northern troops. The Commanders of these two latter forces have not been definitely appointed, but it is understood that the second expedition will be sent to the frontier of Kueichow and Szechuan and the third expedition to the frontier of Kueichow and Kueichow. These last will be ordered to reinforce General Tsoo Kan's force in case he should suffer any serious reverse.

Another plan which the Government is said to entertain is to send a high official as Pacific Commissioner to Yunnan. The Government, it is asserted, will issue a mild worded Mandate, excusing General Tsai Ao's hastiness in opposing it and using other soothing means to heal up the wound.

Remission of Taxes in Peking.
In view of the unrest in Kueichow it is worthy of note that, in response to a joint memorial from the Ministry of Home Affairs and the Ministry of Finance, a number of districts in the province have been exempted from the land tax due for the third year of the Republic. The mandate granting exemption—which purports to be in consideration of recent floods—adds: "towns and villages in these districts which have suffered no damage are permitted to pay eighty per cent. of their land-tax when due and the remaining twenty per cent. at a date after their autumn crop in the fourth year (1915) has been harvested."

Chinese papers state that, in the matter of the proposed additional likin taxes in Kiangsu, Chinese merchants have emerged victorious at least to the extent of gaining a temporary respite. A telegram from the Nungshangpu conveying the welcome news reached the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce three days ago. It is worthy of note that the protest of merchants in Shanghai was framed in a way which throws light on their attitude towards the monarchical movement. They objected on the grounds that the proceeds of the tax were to be used in connection with the movement—North China Daily News.

Assassination of a Prominent Shanghai Official.
A mysterious crime, without any apparent motive, was committed in Shanghai on Saturday afternoon near the Great Western Road at a quarter past four, says the N. C. D. News of January 10. Mr. Chang Sze-shen, local manager of the Bank of Communications, was waylaid in Great Western Road by two Chinese and as the result of something in the nature of a scuffle with revolvers received a wound in the left side, in consequence of which he died within a few minutes of his admission.

CORRESPONDENCE.

[The opinions expressed by the correspondents are not necessarily those of the "Hongkong Telegraph"]

SIR GEORGE REID.
(To the Editor of the Hongkong Telegraph.)

Sir,—Being interested in reading your article in to-day's issue on Sir George Reid, who has been elected Member for Hanover Square, I may mention that Sir George and I had been members of the same Club, the British Empire, in St. James Square, S.W., where, by the way, he was always a royal entertainer in his capacity as High Commissioner for Australia, having large lunch parties for distinguished and non-distinguished visitors from the Commonwealth. Here are two rather good anecdotes in connection with the popular new M.P.

As you may know, he is rather inclined to stoniness, and some years ago while he was in Australia he was referring, in one of his speeches, to a particularly acute domestic crisis in Australian politics (during which time he was unfortunately ill) and said "What would have happened to Australia if I had died then?" when a voice replied "The far would have been in the fire then, Gordie," as he was affectionately called. That he tells this story himself shows that he does not mind the laugh being on the other side.

On another occasion he distinctly scored. One of his hecklers was accusing him of political insincerity and said "Gordie, you are two-faced. You may be very clever, but you are two-faced." Sir George paused, and, looking towards the interrupter, said "That may be so. You are not two-faced, are you Bill?" "No I am not," proudly replied the man, and was about to go on when Sir George retorted "If you were, you would certainly have brought your other face with you."

Yours, etc.,
F. HAMILTON SAWYER.
Hongkong, January 13, 1915.

into the Shantung Hospital, and within a quarter of an hour of the shooting. The French Police have one of the alleged assailants in custody owing to the courage and energy of an Annamite policeman, who, hearing the shooting, gave chase and effected a capture.

Enquiries show that Mr. Chang was riding in his carriage along the Great Western Road, from west to east in Avenue Edouard VII. and, when behind the International Institute, he passed between two men, one of whom was walking on the pavement and the other in the middle of the road. The latter was slightly in advance of the former and when the carriage was fairly between them, the two men are said to have drawn revolvers and to have opened fire upon the occupant of the carriage. Exactly how many shots were fired is not at present known but one, apparently fired by the man on the pavement, took effect in the left side of Mr. Chang, who immediately collapsed. Seeing what had occurred and appreciating the fact that his master had been seriously injured, the driver whipped up his horses and drove straight to the Shantung Road Hospital where he died at 4.30 o'clock.

The arrested man, when taken to the station refused to make any statement but it has been ascertained that his name is Lion Ngo-seng. He is twenty-two years of age and a native of Shantung. The other man has not been arrested.

Though the boundary between the International Settlement and the French Concession runs down the middle of the road in which the murder was committed, it is possible that the case will come on for hearing before the International Mixed Court. It would appear that the carriage proceeded from west to east was, following the rule of the road, on the International side of thoroughfare, though that is a matter which has still to be decided.

We are informed that so far the authorities have not been able to find any reason for the crime, their task being all the more difficult in the absence of a statement by the man at present in custody.

ALLEGED TRESPASS.

At the Summary Court this morning, before Mr. Justice Gompertz, R. A. Curreen, of 22 and 24 Leighton Hill Road, sued Lou Poi and Co., contractors, of Amoy Lane, Wanchai, for $1,000 damages for wrongful trespass on plaintiff's property at Inland Lots 532 and 330.

The plaintiff was represented by Mr. W. E. L. Shenton, and Mr. A. B. Crew appeared for the defendant.

Defendant said Mr. Shenton, wished the case to come on as early as possible. It was a claim for trespass which was still continuing. Respondent was pulling down his house and the debris was coming through.

Mr. Crew said his friend could claim for the repair of the roof if he wished.

The hearing was fixed for Wednesday.

LOG BOOK.

Accident to the s.s. Chnstutch. News has been received, says the Bangkok Daily Mail, that the Chnstutch, which left Singapore for Bangkok on December 18 and was considerably overdue, is now on her way from Trengganu after rather an exciting trip. A telegram from the captain to the Company announces that very heavy weather was encountered outside Singapore, and matters were complicated by a break-down in the engines. The vessel was able to make Trengganu, and there the necessary repairs were carried out, but the voyage could not be resumed until the 26th. The Chnstutch is now on her way up, and as far as is known is none the worse for mishap.

Calcutta Port Commissioners

Sued. On December 3, Mr. R. C. Mitra, 5th Judge of the Calcutta Small Cause Court, decided the suit of Messrs. Turnbull (Glasgow) Ltd., against the Port Commissioners. Plaintiff Company sought to recover the sum of Rs. 29 the value of a bundle of corrugated iron sheets lost in transit between the Calcutta jetties and their yard at the Kidderpore docks. Mr. S. A. Gomes, appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. Langford James for the defendants. Mr. James urged the following among other grounds on behalf of the defendants—First, a requisition form for supply of wagons by defendants contained clauses amongst which it was stipulated that the Commissioners took no risk in carriage, and senders have the right to send a man to look after the goods in transit. Secondly, if the Port Trust Railway were governed by the Railway Act the defendants had not been shown to be negligent. Thirdly, there was not sufficient proof of the loss. Mr. Gomes, for the plaintiff, contended that the clauses required the sanction of the Governor-General in Council and no sanction had been filed by the defendant. The loss was amply testified and if the defendants could not give the quantity of goods carried by their railway they should account for the loss or pay their value. After giving full consideration to arguments on both sides, the Judge decreed the suit with costs and lawyer's fees. New River Cargo Steamer for Shanghai.

The China Import and Export Lumber Co., Ltd., are to be congratulated upon the acquisition of a new twin-screw, river cargo-boat—the Teengah—which has been specially built for the company's river trade. The new vessel has been built to the company's order by the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Works, and is especially constructed for the transportation of timber. For this purpose, her engines are set, and she has a long, clear deck, with an exceedingly large hatch, running almost its whole length. The vessel is handsome in appearance, though having a peculiar construction of masts, four in number, double-braced, and with powerful derricks suitable for handling heavy weights. In this latter respect she will fill a long felt want on the Yangtze River, as very few steamers hitherto on the run have been equipped for handling such cargo. The Teengah's dimensions are: length between perpendiculars, 204 ft. 4 in.; length over all, 215 ft.; beam, 35 ft. 2 in.; depth of hold, 13 ft. 8 in. Her net registered tonnage is 475, and on a 9 ft. draught she has a carrying capacity of 750 tons and on an 11 ft. draught 1,000 tons. A number of guests were invited yesterday afternoon, says the N.C. Daily News, of January 8, to make an inspection of the vessel and to attend her speed trials. Amongst those present were the representatives of the owners and of the builders, as well as the Directors of the Kiangnan Arsenal, Capt. Kent (Messrs. Paulsen and Bayes Davy), and other well-known residents interested in shipping. On the trip, which was up to the Seven Mile Reach, and there over the measured mile, the boat gave every satisfaction, and developed an average speed of 11.2 knots.

A CHINESE SAILOR'S GAMBLE.

Interesting Case in the Summary Court.

The hearing was resumed at the Summary Court this afternoon, before Mr. Justice Gompertz, of the case in which Chan Hing, 303, Queen's Road, sued Wan Shan, 26 Stanley Street, for the sum of $521.50, being the amount of principal and balance of interest due under the defendant's borrowing note dated May 5.

Mr. Faithfull appeared for the plaintiff and defendant was represented by Mr. L. D'Almada.

Mr. Faithfull said that since the last hearing he had learned that the plaintiff had a witness who could prove that he went to the defendant's house, with the money. If his Lordship was satisfied with that, then the other was done away with. In the interests of justice, he (Mr. Faithfull) held that he should be allowed to call this witness.

Mr. D'Almada objected, but this was overruled by his Lordship.

A Chinese accountant said he knew defendant and about three years ago he went to defendant's house with him. Witness carried a rattan basket which contained 20-cent pieces in Chinese subsidiary coin. Plaintiff then took the basket from him, went up the stairs, and some 15 minutes later returned without the basket.

Mr. D'Almada:—Do you know that the money was given to the defendant?—No, I don't know that.

Defendant, recalled and cross-examined by Mr. Faithfull, admitted that this was the first time he had ever given a note for a gambling debt.

Did you lose all the money to the banker?—Yes.

That money you lost would belong to the other players too?—No; only to the bank.

Why should the banker have all the money?—

Mr. D'Almada:—Because he won it, of course.

Mr. Faithfull:—I am a baby at this game. I never played for money in my life, and it is Greek to me. I am merely seeking for information.

Mr. D'Almada:—That is all right.

Mr. Faithfull held that the money was a loan and not a gambling debt. This gambling did not take place at a house, in the

A HOTEL TRAGEDY.

Visitor Found Shot in Bathroom.

Residents at the Hongkong Hotel were shocked to learn this morning of a sad tragedy which took place in the hotel, a man, Sydney Godden by name, being found dead with a bullet wound in the head.

It appears that the deceased arrived at the Hotel yesterday from Canton, and had arranged to leave to-day by the Nikko Maru for Australia. This morning he went to his bath at about ten o'clock and some time afterwards some-one went to call him. After waiting for a long time, enquiries were made, with the result that the bath room boy went into the bath room and found the man lying in a pool of blood, with a bullet wound in the head.

The management were informed and immediately Dr. Marriott and the police were sent for. On the arrival of the doctor he could only pronounce life to be extinct. The police then took charge of the man's effects and the body was later removed to the mortuary. It is stated that an automatic pistol was found close to the deceased, and several letters were also left. These are in the custody of the police.

A NEW ROULETTE.

An Ingenious Chinese Contrivance.

An ingenious and novel method of gambling was explained before Mr. Hazeland at the Police Court this morning when two Chinese were charged with street gambling yesterday evening at Reclamation Street, Yau-mai. The apparatus consisted of a large circular piece of cardboard on which was affixed a railway. A mechanically-driven engine, with tender and coach, representing first, second and third prizes respectively, was set in motion, the marked place opposite which the engine stopped entitling the person who had backed it to first prize. Several marked places were on the cardboard, this allowing several persons to join in the game.

Both defendants were fined $5, or in default, 12 days' hard labour, an order also being made for the contrivance to be confiscated. Inspector Gerrard stated that there was quite a lot of that sort of gambling going on in Yau-mai and Kowloon, and he wished that case to act as a deterrent to such a practice.

CHINESE POSTMAN CHARGED.

Alleged Theft from Mail Packages.

A Chinese postman was brought before Mr. J. R. Wood this morning on a charge of stealing from certain correspondence or parcels, whilst in course of transit through the General Post Office, Hongkong, a large quantity of small articles, the property of the Postmaster General, valued altogether at $50, between December 1 and January 13.

Postal Inspector Watt asked for a remand. It appears that the accused was engaged in sorting letters and parcels, and it is alleged that he broke open the packages. Upon the Inspector searching his quarters at the Post Office, he found the articles. As some more goods had been found after the charge had been made out, and as it was expected to trace other things, he was instructed to ask for a remand.

Defendant said he bought all the things from another man.

A remand until Monday morning was granted.

THE BOMB CASE.

Defendant Bound Over.

Mr. J. R. Wood gave his decision this morning in the case against a Chinese for being in possession of 15 bomb cases.

His Worship said that he would have to convict, although he did not think that the defendant had any guilty knowledge. He would bind the defendant over in two sureties of $100 each to come up for judgment if called upon and to be of good behaviour.

To-night's Attraction.

The De Villiers Company open their season to-night at 9.15 o'clock. The theatre is situated near the Post Office at Kowloon. A splendid programme is promised.

Alice Memorial Hospital.

The Hon. Treasurer of the Alice Memorial and Affiliated Hospitals begs to acknowledge with thanks the following donations to the funds of the Hospital:—Standard Oil Co., $50.

BELGIAN ORPHANS' FUND.

Further Contributions from Hongkong Desirable.

M. Gaston Liebert, Consul General for France and Acting Consul for Belgium, wishes to offer his very hearty thanks to the people of Hongkong who recently raised among them a contribution of $1,000 towards the Belgian Orphan Fund.

This fund, it need hardly be said, is doing a vast amount of useful work and is as well worthy of support. The Belgians have suffered more through the war than Britishers can imagine, and the slaughter among their troops has been great. Under ordinary circumstances Belgium would have been well able to look after the orphaned children of her brave men who have given their lives for their country; but, as our readers are well aware, she is unable to accept this responsibility, and it is but right that the burden should be taken off her shoulders by the people of more fortunate countries.

The belligerents who have suffered the least by the war are the British; and the British of Hongkong may be said not to have suffered at all. If for this reason alone, it is hoped that this colony will continue to help so deserving a fund. We feel sure that our readers, who have ever shown themselves ready to respond to any appeal for the relief of distress, will not fail to go on helping.

Subscriptions will be received by M. Liebert, or by Mrs. Edie, President, Mr. Forsyth, Hon. Secretary, or Mlle. Madeleine Liebert, Hon. Treasurer, of the fund.

EXTRADITION CASE.

The conclusion of the extradition case which has been occupying the attention of Mr. Hazeland at the Police Court for some time past was reached to-day, when the Magistrate gave his judgment. The case was one in which the Canton Government applied for the extradition of the fugitive with a view to punish him for alleged kidnapping, robbery and murder. In the hearing of the case it was stated that the fugitive, with others, was concerned in the kidnapping of a family of nine persons in the Shan Tak district, at a village near the Fi Ngno Mountains in August last.

The prosecution has been conducted by Mr. G. N. Orme, whilst Mr. Leo D'Almada represented the fugitive.

His Worship first referred to Mr. D'Almada's point with reference to the definition of the word "accused" in the Ordinance, saying, after reviewing the point, that it meant charged with a crime, not necessarily with any legal formality. With regard to the case generally he was satisfied that a prima facie case had been made out, and he proposed to commit the fugitive.

FIRE BRIGADE CALL.

Shortly after two o'clock this afternoon, the Fire Brigade received a call to Messrs. Blackhead and Company's premises in Joe House Street. Under Station Superintendent Lane, the Brigade's motor engine proceeded to the scene, but on arrival it was discovered that the outbreak was insignificant and the services of the firemen were not required. It appears that a small packing case caught fire, and some Chinese, becoming alarmed, sent for the Brigade. The flames were extinguished before the Brigade arrived.

Hilo Sugar Report.
The report of Messrs. Figueroa Hernandez, Hilo, shows that during the month of December 155,000 pounds of sugar were received at Hilo.

Bank of Rangoon, Limited.
The net profits of the Bank of Rangoon, Ltd., for the twelve months ended the 30th November, 1915, inclusive of Rs. 70,863-0-1 brought forward from the previous year, amount to Rs. 1,78,853-10-9. For the half-year ended 31st May, 1915, an interim dividend at the rate of five per cent. per annum was paid absorbing Rs. 40,000, leaving available for distribution the sum of Rs. 1,38,853-10-9, and subject to the usual audit, which is being conducted by Messrs. Craig, Gardner and Harris, the Directors will recommend the shareholders at the Annual General Meeting to declare a dividend at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum free of income tax, for the half-year ended 30th November, 1915, to apply Rs. 20,000 to House property account, and to carry forward to the next half-year the balance of profit Rs. 78,853-10-9. The amount carried forward at the corresponding period last year was Rs. 70,863.

Electrical Enterprises in Japan.
One of the most striking industrial developments in Japan of recent years is the expansion of electrical enterprises. The Nagasaki Electric Lighting and Gas Company obtains 700 kilowatts of power from the Kyushu Electric Lighting and Railway Company (Fukuoka), whose power stations include a hydraulic plant on the Kawakami-gawa, near Saga. The latter works are being extended, says the Nagasaki Press, additional machinery being ordered from abroad, and when the alterations are complete, in March next, the generating power will be increased to 6,000 kilowatts. The supply to Nagasaki will then be brought up to 1,000 kilowatts. The Nagasaki Company has two generating stations, one at Aburatsubo with a capacity of 515 kilowatts and a new one at Issa with a capacity of 2,000 kilowatts. In addition to the power employed for lighting, the Company supplies 600 kilowatts to the Canton Spinning Company, from 80 to 100 kilowatts to the electric tramway, and 120 kilowatts to other industrial works.

Anglo-Persian Oil.
Public interest in the operations of the Anglo-Persian Oil Company has been heightened by recent happenings in Persia, and by the knowledge that the British Government has a large financial stake in the undertaking, says the Globe of December 7. For the year ended March 31 last, the profit amounts to £29,431, and after deducting the debit balance of £28,711 brought down, the available sum is £63,720. This, with the exception of £7,878, which is carried forward, is absorbed by payment of the dividend on the Six per Cent. Preference shares. Early in February last, local Persian tribesmen damaged a small portion of the company's pipeline which rendered the transport of oil impracticable for about four and a half months, and necessitated a suspension of refining operations. The Turkish Government before the outbreak of hostilities with that country requisitioned oil and other property of the company to the value of £51,004. Claims will be made against both the Persian and Turkish Governments. The various extensions for which capital has been provided by the British Government are, it is stated, being proceeded with as expeditiously as possible, but the unsettled conditions prevailing have hindered operations. Existing wells are producing satisfactorily, and new fields are being tested by drilling.

Dr. F.W. Foxworthy.
Dr. F.W. Foxworthy, the eminent botanist and wood technologist of the Philippine Forestry Bureau, arrived in Sanjakon by the F.M. Massey from Hongkong on December 4th. He will spend some months in Borneo during which time he will be engaged in classifying the various timbers of that country.
